ALTERNATIVE MEASURES PROGRAM (YOUTH)

Yves Boutot, Director
Young Offenders and Community Services
Correctional Services Division,
Department of the Solicitor General
P. O. Box 6000
FREDERICTON, NB
E3B 5H1
453-2724

This diversion program serves as a screening process to determine whether a young offender should go to court or not. It has been established to foster involvement and awareness, and lessen the stigma of judicial proceedings while allowing the young person to take responsibility for his/her own legal act. Designed for youthful offenders up to 18 years of age (not inclusive), the program offers a mediation service between the victim and the offender so that ways are discussed to "undo the harm done". Counselling and educational programs are available to help offenders understand their offence, if the youth successfully completes the diversion agreement, no charges are laid. Workshops dealing with shoplifting and drug abuse form part of the program.

A theatre company for youth between the ages of 8 and 25. This live professional theatre holds winter workshops for two groups of actors; the first group are 8 to 12 year olds, and students in grades 7 to 12 make up the second group.

During the year the company tours the provincial schools with plays for young audiences. The group is particularly interested in young people between the ages of 15 to 25 who have a keen interest in and knowledge about theatre productions. Annual auditions are held in May and June for New Brunswick high school and university students who feel they would like to join.

CANADA EMPLOYMENT AND IMMIGRATION COMMISSION (CEIC)

P. O. Box 2600
FREDERICTON, NB
E3B 5V6
452-3779

Under the Canadian Job Strategy, the Employment and Immigration Commission has a number of programs. Although they are not all youth specific, all of these programs can be accessed by young people. Skill Investment, Job Entry, Job Development Skill Shortages, Work Orientation Workshop, Youth Strategy, U.I., Job Creation, Community Futures, Challenge '89 and Innovations are programs available through your local Canada Employment Centre. Participation in Creative Job Search Techniques seminars show people how to prepare themselves for interviews leading to potential employment. There is an employment equity commitment in each of these programs which ensures that all job applicants and employees have a fair chance in the workplace. Youth is a target group under this strategy. In order that the Employment and Immigration Commission achieves its employment equity objectives, it is important that young persons self-identify at the Canada Employment Centre. There are Employment Centres in various communities, some of which have counsellors trained to deal with special-needs clients. An inventory of occupations is available throughout Canada (National Job Bank Inventory) at all CEIC offices.
For further information on the available programs, contact the CEIC office nearest you listed below or your regional access centre, Access - The Next Step.

CANADA - NEW BRUNSWICK YOUTH STRATEGY

Through the cooperation of the federal government and the Department of Advanced Education and Training, a youth strategy was undertaken to encourage and assist youth to pursue their employment goals. The (Y.S.) program offers a comprehensive range of services including individual assessment and counselling, educational upgrading, training, and work experience for youth between the ages of 15 - 24. It is designed to help young people make a successful transition from school into the job market. A total of 11 career counselling centres are available throughout the province. Centres may have satellite and/or itinerant services depending on local needs.

To find out if you qualify as a candidate for this program, contact your Community College, your local Canada Employment Centre, or the Access centre in your area. The name of the centres is Acces... The Next Step / Accès... un pas en avant. These centres are situated at the following locations:

The objective of this organization is to offer a new meaning to the lives of young people facing social problems such as alcohol, drugs, suicide and other family problems. Members are actively involved in organizing activities for the benefit of their community and are working toward opening a resource centre for youth. They also implement leadership programs for members and potential members. For more information contact Michel Robichaud, recrute person at 525-2517.

COMITÉS DE PARENTS DU NOUVEAU-BRUNSWICK INC.

Jean-Judes Basque, agent de développement
421 Acadia Avenue
DIEPPE, NB
E1A 1H4
859-8107

Formerly known as Foyer - école / Home and School Association Inc., this organization draws together most of the francophone parent groups now referred to as les Comités de parents. Since 1988, the majority of francophone parents opted to split from the provincial Home and School Association Inc., nevertheless, the goals of the two parent groups are similar.

The objectives of the Fédération de Comités de parents are to promote concern with all problems pertaining to the welfare of francophone children and youth in the province; to recognize the value of parental input in all aspects of their children's educational or general development; to foster co-operation between parents and teachers in the training and guidance of children and youth, both during and after the school period; and to encourage exchanges between parents at the provincial and national level.

COMMUNITY SERVICE ORDER PROGRAM

Yves Boutot, Director
Correctional Services Division
Department of the Solicitor General
P. O. Box 6000
FREDERICTON, NB
E3B 5H1
453-2724

Community based programs are provided in all areas of the province. The aim of this program is to provide judges with a sentencing alternative as a means of dealing with the offender in his/her community. Included as a condition of probation order, it encourages offender and community responsibility in the resolution of some types of criminal activity.

By providing a number of hours of meaningful community service, the offender not only repays the community for the harm he/she has done, but also has the opportunity to find outlets in the community for his/her skills, interests and abilities. Punishment is not an aspect of Community Service Orders. The emphasis is on responsibility and accountability.

Junior Achievement is an organization supported by business and industry, designed to teach young people about techniques and methods of business. Students begin by forming a company which sells shares to raise needed capital. The election of officers such as V.P. of Marketing and the attendance at regular board meetings and audits are a part of the learning process. A product is chosen and produced and enough units are sold by the students so that the company breaks even. At the end of the year company operations are ceased, and the Company is brought through liquidation proceedings. If you would like information on the possibility of setting up a Junior Achievement Program in your region, please contact Brenda Johnston in Fredericton at 453-4940.

LABOUR (DEPARTMENT OF)

The Employment Development Branch of the Department of Labour offers incentive programs to assist employers in the development of new jobs. These programs are normally targeted to various groups, including the employment disadvantaged. N.B. youth between the ages of 16-25 form a major part of this target group.

This year's employment development programs for youth (and the general public) are as follows: Employment Access; J.E.T. Program/Student Venture Capital; J.E.T. Stream; Partners 2000/Enterprise; Partners 2000/Entrepreneur and Visible Abilities.

The Department of Labour also has a Workers' Advocate program for persons having difficulty with Workers' Compensation Board claims (see listing on page 152).

For inquiries about any of the following programs, contact the Acess Centre in your region (see listings on page 20 - A).

Employment Access

The purpose of this program is to provide an on the job opportunity for employees to develop marketable skills which will improve their future employment prospects. Preference is given to those who have run out of Unemployment Insurance Benefits, those who require a minimal number of weeks to qualify for U.I.C., or Social Assistance recipients.

* Not youth specific

J.E.T. Program/Student Venture Capital

A Provincial government program, established to provide employment opportunities for students during the summer to enable them to finance continuation of their studies while gaining valuable work experience. This on the job training will enhance employability of unemployed youth after completion of studies. Candidates must be full-time students at an accredited educational institution in September 1989, and priority will be given to those who will be in post-secondary institutions.

J.E.T. Stream

Through three components: Internship, Work Experience and Priority Employment, this program will provide students with career related as well as practical, meaningful work experience. These skills will enhance their chances to get a job after completion of studies.

Candidates will be persons who were registered as full-time students from January to April 1989 at an accredited educational institution or were unemployed and seeking work for the past six months, and will be full-time students at an accredited post-secondary educational institution in September 1989.

Partners 2000/Enterprise

This program was established to stimulate new and potentially permanent employment opportunities in the Private Sector. Candidates will be persons who have been unemployed for at least 4 weeks immediately prior to hiring, are seeking work and were referred for employment by a Canada Employment Centre. Preference is given to youth between the ages of 19 - 25 or Social Assistance Recipients, Disabled Persons, or Post-Secondary graduates who completed their education more than 6 months prior to hiring and have not yet worked in their field of study.

Partners 2000/Entrepreneur

This program was designed to provide, interest free loans for the establishment of new small business by the unemployed. Candidates include all unemployed people who show interest and ability to develop and operate their own business. Preference is given to youth, women and the disabled.

Visible Abilities

A program designed to recognize the labour resource in disabled individuals and to access labour markets where their skills and abilities may be used. Disabled youth who are currently unemployed, and "job ready" may register with the Department of Labour. Contact Rachel Grant or Lori Morin at 453-2722 or 1-800-442-9738 for more details.

NEW BRUNSWICK STUDENT AID PROGRAM

Department of Advanced Education and Training
Student Financial Support Services Branch
Box 6000
FREDERICTON, NB
E3B 5H1
453-2577 (Information Officer)

The New Brunswick Student Aid Program is designed to provide financial assistance to students who do not have sufficient resources to meet educational costs. Six financial assistance programs (based on need) are available to New Brunwsick post secondary students. These programs are:

Canada Student Loan Program (Full time study) This program is sponsored by the Federal government through the Department of The Secretary of State and is administered by the Student Aid Branch of the Department of Advanced Education and Training.

Criteria for qualification: Canadian citizen residing in New Brunswick, enrolled in a recognized full-time post-secondary institution, taking more than 60% of a full course load of at least 12 weeks in length. Candidates must demonstrate the actual need of financial assistance. They may receive up to $105 per week of enrollment.

New Brunswick Bursary Program The Province of New Brunswick provides bursaries of up to $2,700 per year to qualified students with high assessed need. Bursaries do not have to be repaid provided that the student remains enrolled full time for the period for which the award was granted. Criteria for qualification are similar to those required by the

Canada Student Loans Program listed above. In addition, the candidate must demonstrate financial need in excess of the $3,300, Canada Student limit. Students enrolled part-time or in "Private Institutions" are not eligible.

Three of the six student aid programs were not included due to an ommission error. However, these can be found on page 109 - A of this directory.

Canada Student Loans Program (Part-time study) Guranteed loans for part-time post-secondary students are available to needy individuals provided they are taking between 20% and 59% of a full course load. Some correspondence courses are eligible. For more information or an application Kit on any of the student aid programs listed above, contact the information officer at the Student-Aid Branch: (506) 453-2577.

Other Programs

Interest Relief Plan Available from the federal government for those having difficulty in repaying their Canada Student Loans because of lack of employment or disability. Applications are available from local banks, Canada Employment Centres and collection agencies that collect Canada Student Loans. REDISCOVERING YOUTH - FAMILY SERVICES SAINT JOHN INC.

Lynn Jones and Paul Fearon, Co-facilitators
369 Rockland Road
SAINT JOHN, NB
E2K 3W3
634-8295

A ten week program offered by Family Services Saint John Inc. for teenagers experiencing problems connected with drug and/or alcohol use. Rediscovering Youth is an opportunity for young people to come together one evening a week for ten weeks to talk honestly and openly about issues that are real to them without being judged, criticized or lectured. This program doesn't claim to fix or cure youth with alcohol and/or drug problems, it does however, offer them alternative ways to deal with the daily struggles they face by providing them options and choices. One-on-one counselling is available to help individuals deal with issues they may not feel ready to discuss in the group.

Meetings are held weekly at 7:00 p.m., and the cost is $50.00 for 10 sessions. For further information, contact one of the co-facilitators of the program listed above.

INTRODUCTION

The Youth Council of New Brunswick is pleased to present this 1st edition of the Directory of Programs and Services Offered to Youth in New Brunswick. It has been complied to produce an accurate, easy to use source of information on services and programs offered by non-profit organizations or government to youth between the ages of 15 - 24 throughout the province.

In compiling this directory the utmost care was taken to insure that all programs and services are included and that information is accurate, however, the directory does not provide an exclusive list of programs which are accessible to youth. Rather than duplicate resources which are already available, we felt it would be useful to provide a list of existing references which may be of further assistance to you (see Appendix page 158).

The Appendix contains supplementary information on a variety of services : additional resources, clothing depots, food banks, soup kitchens, service clubs, Federal Members of Parliament, Provincial Cabinet Members and MLA's.

In addition to the alphabetical index of services, we have provided a subject index so that programs serving youth in specific areas can be quickly found.

Although we attempted to reach as many agencies as we could, we do not claim to have been comprehensive. The researchers apologize for any oversights on our part that may have caused us to miss a relevant agency. If your group has not been included in the directory, or if the information about your organization is incorrect, please fill in the identification form on the next page and send it to our office. The Directory of Programs and Services Offered to Youth is available in English and French and will be updated annually. If you wish to receive updated editions, please notify our office of any information changes in your listing that may occur during the year.

ADVANCED EDUCATION AND TRAINING (Department of)

Student Services

Department of Advanced Education and Training
P. O. Box 6000
FREDERICTON, NB
E3B 5H1

The Student Services Program is divided into three main groups:

Entry Services provide assistance to students who are accessing the college system. Personnel from this division offer students information on financial aid and advice on placement.

Support Services provide personal, educational and developmental support to students while they are enroled. This involves counselling and planning, career resource centres, personal counselling, testing and assessment, study techniques, co-curricular activities, health services, leadership training, library services, and support to student councils.

Transition Services facilitate transition from the college to employment or other educational programmers. The professionals involved are college counsellors and manpower counsellors employed by Employment and Immigration Canada.

Student-Aid Program the department is also responsible for the provincial government's Student-Aid program, which includes student loans, bursaries and specialized bursaries. For further information and/or application forms, contact Student-Aid at 453-2577 (also see New Brunswick Student-Aid Program on page 108).

1-800-561-4009 (toll free number) Hours: 12:00 noon to 8:00 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays.

Confidential education and information services are provided by AIDS New Brunswick in collaboration with other professionals and community groups. The organization offers information displays, a speakers bureau, a resource library, educational sessions, and individual counselling. The office is staffed by trained volunteers who will answer questions, discuss concerns and provide support to those infected and their family and friends.

Al-ANON

A self-help group that helps families cope with the problems of living with an alcoholic. Meetings are not for alcoholics. To reach a 24-hour answering service which can refer you to an AL-ANON member, call: 472-3214 (Fredericton) or 634-8779 (Saint John) or contact your local Alcoholism and Drug Dependency Commission (see lists page 4).

AL-ATEEN

A self-help group sponsored by AL-ANON for teenagers who have parents with drinking problems. To reach a 24-hour answering service which can refer you to an AL-ATEEN member, call: 472-3214 (Fredericton) or 634-8779 (Saint John) or get in touch with the Alcoholism and Drug Dependency Commission in your area (see listings page 4).

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS

This program is designed to help alcoholics get sober and stay sober through individual help and group meetings. For information and referrals, call: 472-3214 or 453-2136 (Fredericton), or 634-8779 (Saint John), or get in touch with your local Alcoholism and Drug Dependency Commission (see listings this directory).

ALCOHOLISM AND DRUG DEPENDENCY COMMISSION OF NEW BRUNSWICK, (THE)

453-2136

The Commission offers two distinct divisions of programming to residents of the province. The first is under the Community Services Division, while the other relates to the Treatment and Rehabilitation Services Division.

Community Services is responsible for all programs of an educational or preventative nature. This includes programs in education and prevention, employee assistance programs, judiciary system programs and special groups.

Education and prevention encompasses students as well as professionals and the general community. The Commission is actively involved in drug education within the provincial school system, in both French and English regions. Training and information sessions are provided to teaching personnel on effective drug education. The division is in the process of developing supplementary programming to complement those already available at the junior and senior high school level. The Commission also provides an opportunity for the public to learn more through courses offered at the University level at various universities throughout the province.

Programs available to young persons through the Community Services Division are:

ADEPT provides educational awareness for youth who have been charged under various sections of the Criminal Code of Canada, Narcotic Control Act, Food and Drug Act or the Liquor Control Act. This service is delivered by the Community service personnel to participants who have gone through youth court or one of New Brunswick's Alternative Measures Programs.

CADAC (Club d'abstinence de drogues, d'alcohol et de cigarettes) Young persons in southeastern New Brunswick have the opportunity to join this club. To become a member, one must take a pledge against the use of any drugs, including alcohol and tabacco.

EAP The Employment Assistance Program strives "to promote and implement programs of early intervention within the occupational community of New Brunswick that will encourage the alcoholic employee, and other troubled employees to seek help for their problems." The concept of EAP is promoted through workshops and educational efforts by training supervisors and stewards to carry out program policies as effectively as possible.

SAFE GRAD is a province-wide program designed to enhance the observation of high school graduation night in an organized chemical free environment. Annual conferences for both french and english high schools are held. More recently, universities and colleges in the province have introduced chemical-free frosh weeks for the 1986, 87, and 88 orientations. This program is supported by the Commission and the Department of Education.

SHIP The Short High Impact Program is an educational awareness program designed to provide information for the first-time convicted impaired drivers on the consequences of drinking and driving. Participants have the opportunity to consider why people drink and drive and to plan countermeasures to drinking and driving. The program also assists those requiring treatment to find an appropriate facility. Such services are currently available in several regions across the province.

TADD Teens against Driving Drunk is a province-wide group of young people whose common goal is to eliminate the operation of motor vehicles by anyone who is impaired. The theme of the group is "Keep your dreams alive. Don't drink and drive."

TED Team to Eliminate Drinking and Driving is a province wide service which promotes the responsible use of alcohol at the community level. Members of TED's team are the Department of Transportation, Justice, and Education, the N.B. Safety Council, the N.B. Medical Society, as well as the provincial and municipal police forces. Funding has been provided by Justice Canada.

VIDÉOTOX FESTIVAL This program is designed to create drug awareness among francophone students through their production of audio-visual presentations. These presentations provide the participants with an opportunity to learn more about the dangers of the use and abuse of alcohol and drugs. These projects are also entered in an annual competition.

SPECIAL GROUPS

FAMILY EDUCATION PROGRAM provides two-day counselling/educational sessions per month for family members or any "significant others" (parents, schools, or other agencies) in the life of the client. The program provides information on the nature of addiction and attempts to increase understanding of the effect of alcoholism and drug dependency on family and friends.

JUDICIARY SYSTEM PROGRAM is working toward sensitizing those employed within the justice system about the misuse of alcohol and other drugs; assisting in the development of programs for those caught up in the judicial process as a result of their use or abuse of alcohol or other drugs; and attempting to educate, as a means of prevention, the general public about the effects of alcohol and other drugs and their relationship to crime (The S.H.I.P. program provides such information to convicted impaired drivers).

WOMEN "It's Your Nerves" is a program designed to educate and assist women with problems of drug and alcohol abuse. The information and counselling is usually delivered in the form of workshops. The Commission will continue to develop programs to ensure that women are able to identify the early symptoms of drug addiction and are able to receive an appropriate intervention.

YOUTH Within New Brunswick, the favoured approach for adolescents is out-patient counselling. This structured treatment program enables the client to remain at home and carry on his/her education. Such programs are available at the Ridgewood Treatment and Rehabilitation Centre in Saint John as well as other Commission facilities on an as required basis.

Young Offenders and Community Services
Correctional Services Division,
Department of the Solicitor General
P. O. Box 6000
FREDERICTON, NB
E3B 5H1
453-2724

This diversion program serves as a screening process to determine whether a young offender should go to court or not. It has been established to foster involvement and awareness, and lessen the stigma of judicial proceedings while allowing the young person to take responsibility for his/her own legal act. Designed for youthful offenders up to 18 years of age (not inclusive), the program offers a mediation service between the victim and the offender so that ways are discussed to "undo the harm done". Counselling and educational programs are available to help offenders understand their offence, if the youth successfully completes the diversion agreement, no charges are laid. Workshops on shoplifting and drug abuse form part of the program.

CANADA EMPLOYMENT AND IMMIGRATION COMMISSION

P. O. Box 2600
FREDERICTON, NB
E3B 5V6
452-3779

Under the Canadian Job Strategy, the Employment and Immigration Commission has a number of programs. Although they are not all youth specific, all of these programs can be accessed by young people. Skill Investment, Job Entry, Job Development Skill Shortages, U.I., Job Creation, Community Futures, Challenge '89 and Innovations are programs available through your local Canada Employment Centre. Participation in Creative Job Search Techniques seminars show people how to prepare themselves for interviews leading to potential employment. There is an employment equity commitment in each of these programs which ensures that all job applicants and employees have a fair chance in the workplace. Youth is a target group under this strategy. In order that the Employment and Immigration Commission achieves its employment equity objectives, it is important that young persons self-identify at the Canada Employment Centre. There are Employment Centres in various communities, some of which have counsellors trained to deal with special-needs clients. An inventory of occupations is available throughout Canada (National Job Bank Inventory) at all CEIC offices.

COMMUNITY SERVICE ORDER PROGRAM

Yves Boutot, Director
Correctional Services Division
Department of the Solicitor General
P. O. Box 6000
FREDERICTON, NB
E3B 5H1
453-2724

Community based programs are provided in all areas of the province. The aim of this program is to provide judges with a sentencing alternative as a means of dealing with the offender in his/her community. Included as a condition of probation order, it encourages offender and community responsibility in the resolution of some types of criminal activity.

By providing a number of hours of meaningful community service, the offender not only repays the community for the harm he/she has done, but also has the opportunity to find outlets in the community for his/her skills, interests and abilities. Punishment is not an aspect of Community Service Orders. The emphasis is on responsibility and accountability.

Inter-Provincial Program for Second Language Monitor

This program was established to encourage the use of our two official languages throughout Canada. Second language monitors can receive up to $3,200 per year for assisting students in perfecting their second language use by taking part in conversation and pronunciation exercises. Each monitor must be prepared to pursue a full-time postsecondary study program outside his/her home province and at the same time, to work as a monitor from six to eight hours a week under the direction of second language professors in an accredited learning establishment. Reimbursement is available to cover travel expenses from home province to work place and also to return home after the program ends. This federally funded program is offered to anglophone and francophone Canadians.

Inter-Provincial Student Exchange Program

This is a program for students in Grade 9 and 10 which enables francophone students to visit anglophone areas and vice-versa.

Student Exchange Program with Québec

This program is for provincial senior high school students. Its two main objectives are to promote intercultural exchanges and to familiarize the students with another school system. The exchanges are of a six month duration, i.e., 3 months here with a Québec student and 3 months living in Québec.

Bursaries for Second Language or Minority Language Studies

Each year, the federal government offers postsecondary students a $1,000 or $2,000 bursary to enable them to continue their studies in Canada for a year, in their second official language or minority language.

Summer Bursaries for Language Training

Each summer, this program enables some 7,165 postsecondary students to take an immersion program to learn their second official language in an educational institution either in or outside their province. Courses are offered by several Canadian universities. Each student is granted a bursary of approximately $1,350 for living and educational expenses for participating, during the summer, in a six-week language course. This program is subsidized by the federal government.

Summer Bursaires for Francophones in Minority Environments

This program enables Francophone students in Grades 11 and 12 from a minority environment to take a French immersion course to improve their mother tongue and expand their knowledge of their French-Canadian culture.

Each of these students is granted a bursary of approximately $1,350 to cover living and educational expenses for participating, during the summer, in a six-week language course. Courses for the Grade 11 students are offered at the Université de Moncton and the Collège de Jonquière, and those for Grade 12 are offered at the Université du Québec at Trois-Rivières.

Monitor Programs for Francophones

The objective of this program is to contribute to the improvement of the knowledge of French and French-Canadian culture in minority Francophone communities in Canada through students who act as monitors. The students chosen receive a maximum of $3,200 per year for studying on a full-time basis in a postsecondary institution, and, at the same time, work on a part-time basis (six to eight hours per week). Furthermore, each monitor is reimbursed for their travel expenses (round trip) from their place of residence to the host province. This program is subsidized by the federal government.

Program for Full-Time Monitors

The principal objective of this program is to promote the learning and use of the official languages through full-time monitors who work mainly in rural and semi-urban regions in certain provinces of Canada. The program also contributes to the improvement of the knowledge of French-Canadian culture in minority Francophone communities in Canada. The candidates will receive $9,000 per year to assist a second language professor or a French (mother tongue) professor for 25 hours per week. Also, each monitor is reimbursed their travel and moving expenses. Candidates must have completed at least one year of university studies.

English Immersion Courses

The Department of Education offers an English course for students in grades 10 and 11. This program is designed to provide Francophone students with a greater mastery of English as a second language and at the same time, give them a better appreciation of English culture by placing them in an English environment. Participants are chosen on the recommendation of school board authorities. The four-week program is offered on the Fredericton campus of the University of New Brunswick.

FEDERAL PROGRAMS FOR YOUTH

HOT 100 - A quick guide to what the Feds are doing for youth.

Some of the youth programs sponsored by the Federal Government are listed in this directory, and those that are included pertain mainly to employment through the CEIC Centres. However, the Federal Government provides funding for many programs which benefit youth.

The HOT - 100 is a handbook describing more than 100 of the top programs and services offered to youth by the federal government. Whether you are job hunting, looking for ways to develop new skills or planning to travel or study, the HOT - 100 will help you. This handbook lets you know who the services are for, what they do, and who to contact for more information on each program. Copies are available free at Canada Employment Centres throughout the Province.

453-7167 (TDD)

Services provided to young persons (and the general public) by Health and Community Services throughout the Province are as follows:

Adolescent Parents and Children's Services Program (APACS)

This program provides single parent teenagers with support to help them carry out their parenting responsibilities. Although the program focuses mainly on teenagers, enquiries from other single parents who feel the need for support in carrying out their parental role are welcome. APACS provides information and support both before and after the baby is born. Services include: decision counselling, hospital or home visits by a social worker, career counselling and planning, information on child development and care, parenting and life skills training, group discussions with other teens in similar circumstances, and personal and family counselling. A small allowance is paid to help cover related costs of the program.

Adoption Placement Service

This program aims to secure families who can meet on a permanent basis, the needs of children in the department's permanent care. The program is also responsible for private adoption matters including the assessment of adopting parents who are not closely related to the birth parent. The department may assist birth parents in determining whether the family they have chosen for a private adoption placement is capable of meeting their child's needs.

After Hours Emergency Social Services

This service operates through a toll-free number, 1-800-442-9799, where a team of professional social workers provide a bilingual service response to all calls. All serious requests requiring immediate action are referred to an on call worker or the police in the area for quick action.

AIDS

The department provides information and education sessions about the Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS). Counselling services are provided through public health offices and reproductive health clinics.

Audiology Program

Children up to age 17 with a hearing impairment are provided with hearing aids and covered for maintenance of aids, support services and referral to other services.

Child Care Services

Provided to children who have been separated from their natural families and placed in a foster home, group home, therapeutic home or a more specialized environment. The focus is to reunite the child and family, however where this is not possible, an alternative plan which takes in to account the child's best interest is developed.

Child Protection Services

These services are provided to children and their parents when a child's security and development are in jeopardy. The service aims to help parents overcome abuse and neglect so that their children can remain in the parental home. The service also investigates child abuse situations occuring outside the home.

Child/Wife Abuse

It is manditory to report cases of suspected child abuse so that Health and Community Service workers and Child Protection Services can investigate and make the proper referrals when required.

Women who are being physically, emotionally or sexually abused can be referred to Women's Emergency Shelters where they are provided protection. Abused women may go directly to the shelter nearest her home without the need for referral from the department (see listing of Emergency Shelters for Women, page 50 - 51).

Community Based Services for Children with Special Needs

The goal of this service is to provide a comprehensive system for serving all eligible (long-term disabled children) special-needs children in the nurturing atmosphere of their home and community. Services offered through this program are as follows:

> Interdiciplinary Assessment, Service Coordination, Respite Care, Family Support Services, Residential Resources, and Financial Support.

Prevention, protection and support services include:

> Child Protection/Support, Adolescent Parent/Child Services, Children's Day Care and Child Care Services.

Day Care Centres

A list of all registered day care centres may be obtained from the Department of Health and Community Services. A subsidy is available through the provincial government for children in need of day care whose parents have a limited income. This is not welfare.

External Agency Support Program

Provides financial and professional assistance to provincial and community agencies that deliver services which are complementary to the mandate of the department.

Extra-Mural Hospital

Provides hospital services at home. Services include assessment, rehabilitation, acute care, and support for chronically disabled, terminally ill, and children with neurodevelopmental disorders. The Extra-mural service is expanding to cover the province as resources permit.

Foster Home Services

Private homes that provide a family environment for children who are unable to stay in their natural home.

Health Services Program

Covers the cost of prescription drugs for eligible income assistance recipients and their dependants, and child welfare cases.

Medicare

This health care plan generally covers medical services rendered in New Brunswick and in Canada. Students, married or single from New Brunswick, temporarily absent and in full time attendance at a University or another insitution are covered for a 12 month period provided they notify the medicare office and meet the requirements of the student policy. Medicare also covers a vision examination once per 24 month period for residents under 17 years of age and twice per 24 month period for those under 19 with a diagnosed vision problem. Physicians who do not participate in medicare must advise you before providing a service. For more information on Medicare the number to call is 453-2161.

Neonatal and Post-natal Programs

Public Health nurses visit new mothers in their homes to discuss services available in the community through the Community Services Division. The nurses also make home visits to first time mothers, mothers or newborns with health problems, and mothers of new borns referred by a physician or hospital personnel.

Parenting Program

A federal/provincial program entitled "Nobody's Perfect", designed for parents of young children, in particular parents who do not have ready access to the types of services and support which makes parenting easier and more enjoyable.

Post-Adoption Record Disclosure Services

The department discloses non-identifying information to adult adoptees, birth parents, adoptive parents and adult siblings about each other. Clients' names are placed on a register, and those who match up and wish to be united are contacted. If a match is not found immediately, the client's name remains on the list for future reference.

Prenatal Health Supervision

Provides services to expectant parents, with special emphasis on teenagers and first-time mothers. To promote optimum health for expectant mothers and their unborn babies, public health nurses conduct prenatal classes and visit expectant mothers individually at home or at school.

Prescription Drug Program

This program is available to residents aged 65 and older, however, young people are covered under special circumstances. A special plan has been set up for patients with cystic fibrosis, children with human growth hormone deficiency, and those who have contacted the AIDS virus, since the cost of medication for these illness are extremely high.

Reproductive Health Program

This program offers information, education, counselling and physician-related services on adolescent pregnancy, sexually transmitted disease and sexuality, to a variety of individuals and community groups. The services focus primarily on prevention of sexually transmitted diseases and unplanned pregnancies.

Residential Resources for Children in Care

A group home is a small, home like environment for the development or rehabilitation of children and adolescents with special needs. There are two major categories: homes for adolescents with behaviral/ emotional difficulties, including young offenders, and homes for children and adolescents with physical/developmental difficulties (see Housing/Residential Services page 207).

School Health Program

Because of its concern for holistic health, the department provides assessment and counselling to New Brunswick students. Nurses and public health staff act as resource persons for health education programs, and work with school personnel to establish a healthy environment. Major concerns are alcohol/drug and suicide prevention, personal functioning, and sex education. For services and support to all school aged youth, contact the regional office nearest you.

Services to Young Offenders

A service provided jointly between the Department of Health and Community Services and Solicitor General, who assume responsibility for the development and supervision of open custody facilities for young offenders. Both foster homes and group homes are used for this purpose (see listing under Housing/Residential Services page 207).

Sheltered Training and Employment Program

This program funds non-profit organizations which provide work training and supported employment services to disabled adults. Services include vocational assessment, life skills training, counselling and employment skills training.

Transition Houses and Emergency Shelters

Transition houses are short term residential facilities for women and children who are victims of family violence. They provide couselling and support services to assist families in making decisions about their future.

Emergency shelters are residential facilities that provide shelter and meals on a short-term basis to persons who have no other resources at their disposal. Shelters are often used by victims of family violence where no transition houses exist (see listings under Emergency Shelters for Women, page 50, 51 & 73).

Unmarried Parent Services

Offers support to pregnant women who do not wish to parent their child. The goal of the program is to help the mother explore alternatives and develop a plan in her child's best interests by ensuring that she has current reliable information while she explores options, and by supporting her in her decision. If a mother decides to place her child for adoption, the social worker ensures that the adoptive parents are able to meet the child's needs. However, appropriate support services are offered to those women who choose to parent their child.

The Department of Income Assistance offers a number of financial programs. Its responsibility to young persons include services such as:

The Adolescent Parent and Children Services Program provides financial assistance to, or on behalf of, single adolescent parents and their children who are in financial need and who reside in a supportive living situation.

After Hours Emergency Social Services provides provincial screening and assessment services after regular hours in matters of child and adult protection, children in care, family violence and emergency financial assistance for special items. Call 1-800-442-9799 for serious requests requiring immediate action.

The Child Abuse and Neglect Program is D.I.A.'s committment under an International Agreement to work together with other Social Policy Departments toward ameliorating child abuse and neglect.

The Day Care Subsidy Program provides subsidization for day care services for children whose family meets the eligibility criteria.

The Emergency Assistance Program is designed to aid clients facing an emergency situation requiring a prompt and specific financial response.

The Interim Assistance Program provides short term income to those awaiting assured income or expecting to return to work.

The Long-Term Established Needs Program provides financial assistance to clients for whom there is limited potential for exit and whose needs are fairly stable and predictable over time.

The Health Services Program provides a Health Card for uninsured services to clients which they could otherwise not afford to purchase.

Section 20 provides an option to parents to encourage relatives or friends of children in need of a home apart from parents to assume responsibility for them, instead of having these children become wards of the Province.

Future Opportunities to Combat Unemployment Successfully (FOCUS) is designed to provide opportunities for clients to maintain or acquire skills which enhance their chances of getting a job and self-sufficiency, as well as limit the likelihood of long-term dependence on public financial support.

The Upgrading Training and Placement Program is designed to provide financial assistance to individuals who have the potential for self reliance.

For more information on any of these services or programs, contact the main office at 453-2460 or the Income Assistance office in your region.

Junior Achievement is an organization supported by business and industry, designed to teach young people about techniques and methods of business. Students begin by forming a company which sells shares to raise needed capital. The election of officers such as V.P. of Marketing and the attendance at regular board meetings and audits are a part of the learning process. A product is chosen and produced and enough units are sold by the students so that the company breaks even. At the end of the year company operations are ceased, and the Company is brought through liquidation proceedings. LABOUR (DEPARTMENT OF) AND CEIC

The Employment Development Branch of the Department of Labour offers incentive programs to assist employers in the development of new jobs. These programs are normally targeted to various groups, including the employment disadvantaged. N.B. youth between the ages of 16-25 form a major part of this target group. Many of these Employment Programs are jointly funded through the Provincial and Federal governments.

This year's employment development programs for youth are:
Community 2000/Contribution N.B.; Community 2000/Employment Access; Challenge; J.E.T. Program/Student Venture Capital; J.E.T. Stream; Partners 2000/Enterprise; Partner 2000/Entrepreneur; Visible Abilities; Youth Strategy/Y.S.; and Work Orientation Workshop Program (W.O.W). The Department of Labour also has a Workers' Advocate program for persons having difficulty with Workers' Compensation Board claims (see listing on page 152).

For inquiries about any of the following programs, contact your nearest CEC, CEC-S or CEC-OC. (see listings on pages 18 - 20).

Community 2000/Contribution N.B.

This program enables Voluntary/Non-Profit organizations to improve their level of service and undertake activities with lasting community benefits. It provides current work experience for women, aboriginal, and disabled individuals, to maintain and develop skills which can improve their future employment prospects.

Community 2000/Employment Access

The purpose of this program is to provide an on the job opportunity for employees to develop marketable skills which will improve their future employment prospects. Preference is given to those who have run out of Unemployment Insurance Benefits, those who require a minimal number of weeks to qualify for U.I.C., or Social Assistance recipients.

* Not youth specific

Challenge

A component of Summer Employment Experience Development (SEED) program which was established to create summer jobs for students. This program offers incentive to private, municipal and non-profit employers to create student employment opportunities which would not otherwise be available. It provides career related jobs in which students gain practical work experience. Candidates to be considered must be students who intend to return to school on a full-time basis in the fall.

J.E.T. Program/Student Venture Capital

A Provincial government program, established to provide employment opportunities for students during the summer to enable them to finance continuation of their studies while gaining valuable work experience. This on the job training will enhance employability of unemployed youth after completion of studies.

Candidates must be full-time students at an accredited educational institution in September 1989, and priority will be given to those who will be in post-secondary institutions.

J.E.T. Stream

Through three components: Internship, Work Experience and Priority Employment, this program will provide students with career related as well as practical, meaningful work experience. These skills will enhance their chances to get a job after completion of studies.

Candidates will be persons who were registered as full-time students from January to April 1989 at an accredited educational institution or were unemployed and seeking work for the past six months, and will be full-time students at an accredited post-secondary educational institution in September 1989.

Partners 2000/Enterprise

This program was established to stimulate new and potentially permanent employment opportunities in the Private Sector. Candidates will be persons who have been unemployed for at least 4 weeks immediately prior to hiring, are seeking work and were referred for employment by a Canada Employment Centre. Preference is given to youth between the ages of 19 - 25 or Social Assistance Recipients, Disabled Persons, or Post-Secondary graduates who completed their education more than 6 months prior to hiring and have not yet worked in their field of study.

Partners 2000/Entrepreneur

This program was designed to provide, interest free loans for the establishment of new small business by the unemployed. Candidates include all unemployed people who show interest and ability to develop and operate their own business. Preference is given to youth, women and the disabled.

Visible Abilities

A program designed to recognize the labour resource in disabled individuals and to access labour markets where their skills and abilities may be used. Disabled youth who are currently unemployed, and "job ready" may register with the Department of Labour. Contact Rachel Grant or Lori Morin at 453-2722 or 1-800-442-9738 for more details.

Work Orientation Workshop Program (WOW)

A component of SEED established to assist disadvantaged or potential school drop-outs by providing work experience, training and counselling in order to encourage them to return to school. Applicants must be in-school students who lack the education and training necessary for the actual work world. This program is funded by Employment and Immigration Canada. Students may contact their local Canada Employment Centre for Students (see listing on page 18-20).

Youth Strategy

Through cooperation with the federal government and the Department of Advanced Education, a Youth Strategy was undertaken to encourage and assist youth to pursue their employment goals. The (Y.S.) program offers a comprehensive range of services including individual assessment and counselling, educational upgrading, training, and work experience for youth between the ages of 16 - 24. It is designed to help young people make a successful transition from school into the job market. A total of 11 career counselling centres are available throughout the province. Each centre may have satellite and/or itinerant services depending on local needs.

To find out if you qualify as a candidate for this program, contact your Community College or your nearest Canada Employment Centre.

Box 6000
FREDERICTON, NB
E3B 5H1
453-2577 (Information Officer)

The New Brunswick Student Aid Program is designed to provide financial assistance to students who do not have sufficient resources to meet educational costs. Six financial assistance programs (based on need) are available to New Brunwsick post secondary students. These programs are:

Canada Student Loan Program (Full time study) This program is sponsored by the Federal government through the Department of The Secretary of State and is administered by the Student Aid Branch of the Department of Advanced Education and Training.

Criteria for qualification: Canadian citizen residing in New Brunswick, enrolled in a recognized full-time post-secondary institution, taking more than 60% of a full course load of at least 12 weeks in length. Candidates must demonstrate the actual need of financial assistance. They may receive up to $105 per week of enrollment.

New Brunswick Bursary Program The Province of New Brunswick provides bursaries of up to $2,700 per year to qualified students with high assessed need. Bursaries do not have to be repaid provided that the student remains enrolled full time for the period for which the award was granted. Criteria for qualification are similar to those required by the

Canada Student Loans Program listed above. In addition, the candidate must demonstrate financial need in excess of the $3,300, Canada Student limit. Students enrolled part-time or in "Private Institutions" are not eligible.

Canada Student Loans Program (Part-time study) Guranteed loans for part-time post-secondary students are available to needy individuals provided they are taking between 20% and 59% of a full course load. Some correspondence courses are eligible. For more information or an application Kit on any of the student aid programs listed above, contact the information officer at the Student-Aid Branch: (506) 453-2577.

Other Programs

STUDENT ASSISTANCE: THE PROBLEM SOLVER

F.H.S. Guidance Staff
Fredericton High School
300 Priestman Street
FREDERICTON, NB
E3B 6J8
453-5435

The Program for Student Assistance, jointly established by School Districts and the High School, is a program to help students with personal problems that may affect school work and/or school attendance. It encourages students to seek help as early as possible in order that their problems won't grow so big that they can't be controlled. These problems can be physical, emotional, personal, financial, legal, family, or ones related to alcohol and drugs. The confidential voluntary service of P.S.A. does not replace the regular counselling services, but rather it addresses those problems that need much more attention than can be given by the school counsellors during regular school hours.

SERVICE CLUBS

The objective of the various service clubs in the province is to assist in improving the quality of life of citizens in their communities. Fund raising activities organized by these clubs may provide direct financial assistance for persons with specific needs. For more information on any of these organizations in your area and to find out what they have to offer youth, contact City Hall or your village council.
